NOTIFICATION.

CONSTANTINOPLE, THE 26TH MAY 1920.

No. 104.—The following are the principal conditions of the Peace Terms which have been communicated by the Allies to Turkey:—

(1) The frontiers of Turkey will be already demarcated and, where necessary, revised by a Boundary Commission to be created. According to this delimitation, Turkey will include the Constantinople sector of Thrace and all the predominantly Turkish areas of Asia Minor.

(2) The rights and title of the Turkish Government in Constantinople will not be affected; but the right to modify this provision is reserved in the event of the failure of Turkey faithfully to fulfil the Treaties.

(3) A Commission of the Straits will have authority over all waters between the Mediterranean north of the Dardanelles and the Black Sea south of the Bosphorus, and of waters within three miles of each of these mouths, also on the shores to such extent as may be necessary. The duty of the Commission will be to ensure freedom of navigation in these waters in peace.

(4) A scheme of local self-government will be drafted for Kurdistan, including provision for the protection of Assyrian-Chaldeans and other minorities. The League of Nations will decide later whether Kurdistan should be granted independence of Turkey, if it be proved that separation is desired by the majority of the Kurdish people.

(5) Certain portions of Smyrna are formed into a separate unit to be administered by Greece, this sovereignty of Turkey to be continued for a period of years till the independent State of Smyrna decides its own destiny.

(6) With the exception of the Constantinople sector, Eastern Thrace is ceded to Greece, provision being made for the local self-government of the town of Adrianople.

(7) Certain portions of the Armenian districts of Turkey are added to the existing Armenian Republic, the boundary between Turkey and Armenia in certain districts being referred to the arbitration of the President of the United States whose decision will be final thereon and on any stipulations regarding Armenian votes to the sea.

(8) Syria, Mesopotamia and Palestine are provisionally recognized as independent States, subject to administrative advice and assistance from a mandatory power, until such time as they are able to stand alone; the mandate for Syria has been entrusted to France and those for Mesopotamia and Palestine to Britain; the mandate for Palestine will include provision for giving effect to the declaration of November 2, 1917, regarding the establishment of a National Home for the Jewish people.

(9) The Hedjaz is recognized as a free and independent State. The King of Hedjaz undertakes to ensure free and easy access to Mecca and Medina to Muslim pilgrims of all countries.

(10) Turkey relinquishes all rights and titles over Egypt, the Sudan and Cyprus.

(11) Turkey recognizes the French Protectorate over Morocco and Tang.

(12) Turkey renounces her claims to certain islands in the Aegean.

(13) The military, naval and air forces at the disposal of Turkey will consist of the following:—

(a) The Sultan's bodyguard at Constantinople; (b) a troop of Gendarmerie for the maintenance of internal order and security and the protection of minorities; (c) special elements for reinforcements of the Gendarmerie and eventual control of the frontiers. The bodyguard is limited to 700 and the Gendarmerie with special elements to 50,000. All weapons retained in Turkish ports are declared to be strictly surrendered. The Turkish fleet is limited to six torpedo boats and seven ships. No military or naval air forces or dirigibles are to be maintained.

(14) Control will be maintained over the finances of Turkey until the discharge of her international obligations has been assured.

(15) Freedom of navigation and transit is secured. The following ports are declared international ports, provision to be made for free zones in each:—Alexandria, Haifa, Beirut, Constantinople, Baghdad, Haifa, Haidar Pasha, Smyrna and Trebizond.

(16) In addition to the above there are numerous provisions—

- (a) League of Nations, (b) Protection of Minorities, (c) Restoration of abandoned property rights, (d) Prisoners of War, (e) Graves of Allied Soldiers, (f) Punishment of war criminals, (g) Economic questions and concessions, (h) Labour conventions and (i) Antiquities, but it is not necessary to detail these in the present statement.

2. However much they may regret some of these decisions Indian Muslims must feel satisfaction in knowing that the settlement has been greatly influenced by their representations. When replying to the Khilafat Deputation on the 29th January last, His Excellency the Viceroy gave an account of the steps which had been taken by the Secretary of State and himself from the date of the amicitia onwards to represent to His Majesty's Government the views of Indian Muslims, especially with regard to the holy places in the Hedjaz and the future of Constantinople, and to ensure that their representations should receive a full hearing from the Supreme Council of the Allies. After that date the representatives of the All-India Khilafat Conference were given every facility and assistance by the Government of India to lay their case before the Prime Minister and the strength of Indian Muslim feeling in the matter has been impressed upon His Majesty's Government in frequent communications made to the Secretary of State. The Prime Minister replying to the Khilafat Deputation assured the Muhammadans of India that their case had been presented with great force and had been examined with consideration care not merely by the delegates of the British Empire, but also by the Supreme Council of the Allies. And in fact the representations made by Indian Muhammadans did materially influence the final decision. It is well known that there was a great and strong body of public opinion both in England and America which favoured the reversal of the Turkish capital from Constantinople to Asia Minor, and that such councils did not prevail in so small measure due to the knowledge how heavily Indian Muslim opinion was opposed to this step. Indian Muslims have therefore the satisfaction of knowing that largely out of deference to their feelings and the representations of the Government of India, Constantinople was saved for the Turkish Empire as its capital.

3. The Governor-General in Council would next like to advert to the allegation which is sometimes made that British policy has ever been in the past unfriendly to Turkey. For this statement there is no foundation. It is unnecessary to refer to the ancient friendship between the two countries, proved by the story of Britain on the side of Turkey in the Crimean war and by all her subsequent efforts to preserve the integrity of the Ottoman Empire. The forbearance which Britain displayed and the protection which Turkey under the domination of German influences and the leadership of the Committee of Union and Progress gave, before war was declared, were fully explained in the communication issued by the Government of India in October 1914. It was Turkey which broke the traditional friendship with Great Britain. In his reply to the Khilafat Deputation the Prime Minister made it absolutely clear that Britain had no understanding of any sort or kind with Russia to the detriment of Turkey when the war began. In fact Britain sought to deter Turkey from entering the war by giving her the most complete assurances—that if she maintained neutrality, Britain would see that at the conclusion of peace no conditions would be laid down which would impair her independence and integrity, and that economic conditions of a character favourable to Turkey would be obtained. In spite of all these assurances Turkey took the fatal step of entering the war on the side of Germany, and against her ancient Ally.

4. It is most important that there should be no misunderstanding as to the attitude of Government towards the question of the Khilafat. The Government of India repeat again that the question of the Khilafat is one for Muhammadans, and Muhammadans only, to decide, and that with their free choice in this matter, Government have no desire to interfere. But they cannot acquiesce in the statement which is now made that the Khilafat of the Ottoman Sultan has remained unchanged in its temporal attributes for thirteen centuries or that it implies any temporal allegiance on the part of Indian Muslims. These are propositions which are contrary to history. The temporal power associated with the Khilafat has undergone the most violent fluctuations during the last thirteen centuries. It has covered the whole of the domain embraced in the Sassanid Empire when that was in the fullness of its glory. On the other hand it was reduced to nothing for over two centuries when the Khalifa was the mere spiritual Head of Islam under the Mameluk dynasty of Egypt. With the transference of the Khalifat to the Ottoman dynasty, the temporal power of the Khalifa has waxed and waned with the extent of the Ottoman Empire, but the essence of the Khalifat remained unaltered and cannot now be affected by any present change in the boundaries of that Empire. Nor, also, so far as Indian Muslims are concerned, is there any historical basis for the claim that the Khalifa implies any temporal allegiance on their part to the Sultan of Turkey. Any such theory of divided allegiance would be subversive of the constitutional basis on which all Governments rest.

5. It is also a mistake to suppose that the war was a religious one or that the terms of peace have been influenced in any way by religious considerations. The Muslims of India recognized this fact positively very clearly five years ago. The war was one between Christian powers and the alliance of Turkey with a Christian power places this beyond doubt. As to the second the peace conference has applied the same principles to all autocratic empires, Muslim and Christian alike. The Empire of Austria-Hungary has lost over two-thirds of its dominions and three-fourths of its population. Heavy as Turkey's losses are they fall far short of these. And although it is true that Turkish sovereignty has been confined to areas within which Turks predominate, Indian Muhammadans must remember that the independence of their Arab co-religionists remains intact throughout a very large proportion of the remainder of the former Ottoman Empire and that the only areas which have been removed entirely from Muslim control are the comparatively small areas of Armenia, Thrace and Smyrna, in each of which according to pre-war statistics the population was predominantly non-Muslim.

6. Again it has been said that the settlement is a breach of the promise or the offer made by the Prime Minister in his speech of January 1918 when he said: "Now we are fighting to destroy Austria-Hungary or to deprive Turkey of its capital or of the rich and renowned lands of Asia Minor and Thrace which are predominantly Turkish in race." This passage must however be read with its context, for Mr. Lloyd George continued, "While we do not challenge the maintenance of the Turkish Empire in the home-lands of the Turkish race with its capital at Constantinople—the passage between the Mediterranean and the Black Sea being internationalized and neutralized—Armenia, Mesopotamia, Syria and Palestine are, in our judgment, entitled to a recognition of their separate national conditions."

The peace terms now published fulfil this offer or promise, for her home-lands which are predominantly Turkish in race have been left to Turkey and those portions of Thrace and Smyrna which have been separated have been treated in accordance with the principle of nationality. This is a principle which has been followed in all the other Treaties of Peace. The Supreme Council decided that the Turks had forfeited their title to rule over the majorities of other races and that these majorities should be joined to their own national States. Both in Thrace and in Smyrna the Muslim population before the war was in a minority. In 1914 and 1915 the Turkish Government carried out a systematic deportation of the non-Muslim population from these areas and the statistics of to-day cannot therefore be made a reason for retaining them under Turkish rule. In Thrace the sector of Constantinople, where Turks predominate, has been reserved to Turkey. The rest of Thrace was predominantly Greek in 1912 and has therefore been united with Greece. There is no doubt that Adrianople is predominantly Turkish, but it is only an island of Turks separated from the Constantinople sector by a region predominantly Greek. It is impossible to separate so island such as this from the territories by which they are surrounded, and therefore in accordance with the universal practice of the Peace Council in the rest of Europe it has been treated as part of Thrace subject to an arrangement which ensures a system of local self-government and guarantees proper representation to the Turkish majority in Adrianople. Similarly in Smyrna the majority of the people are definitely Greek and Armenian, but the area transferred has been cut down to the minimum suitable for separate administration. The assembly resident with Turkey and the districts concerned will eventually decide their own destiny by vote. The part of Smyrna will be free. Turkey will have freedom of transit and there will be a separate department for the Turkish minority.

7. It is unnecessary to refer at length to the reasons which have led the Allies to insist upon the internationalization and neutralization of the Straits between the Mediterranean and the Black Sea. Its opening to Germany and its closure against the British in 1914 had disastrous effects in prolonging the great war with all its bloodshed and misery. This great waterway of the world must remain in future open to the free commerce of all nations.

8. The maintenance of some control over the finances of Turkey to safeguard international obligations is no new proposal as for years such control has been exercised for the administration of the Ottoman debt. This necessity has become all the greater now that the debt has increased from 160 millions to nearly 500 millions, while Turkish territory has decreased. The new States formed out of Turkey and the ceded territories will bear a proportion of the pre-war debt. There are provisions granting to Turkey a consultative voice in the Financial Commission and for termination of the Commission when her obligations have been discharged.

9. The provisions regarding the army and navy of Turkey require little comment. The reduction of the Turkish army is in accordance with the arrangements which have been made for the general disarmament of the other powers lately at war with the Allies. Turkey had no effective navy before the war and this condition is maintained.

10. Of more interest to Muslims in India are those provisions which concern the portions of the former Turkish Empire where their Arab co-religionists preponderate. The absolute independence of Arabia is recognized. For generations the Arabs have suffered from the misrule of the Turks and it is unreasonable to ask that the Arab populations which have claimed independence of Turkey and have fought side by side with the Allies to secure their independence should be replaced by the Allies under Turkish rule. As the Prime Minister pointed out to the Khilafat Deputation, it would be unjust to deprive the Arabs of their independence merely because they are Mohammedans and co-religionists of the Turks. "We are applying," he said, "exactly the same principles in Christian places, and to impose the decision of the Sultan upon Arabia, which has no desire for it, is to impose upon Arabia something which we certainly would not dream of imposing upon Christian communities."

11. Similar considerations apply to Kurdistan of which the right to local autonomy is provisionally recognized, and to those areas in Asia, over which mandates have been entrusted by the Peace Conference to Britain and France, that is to say, Palestine, Mesopotamia and Syria. It cannot be too clearly understood that in all these three cases the mandates have been granted for a specific purpose and for a temporary period. The immediate application to these areas of the principle of nationality would spell chaos and anarchy; and the work of the mandatory powers is to assist the local inhabitants with administrative advice and help, until such time as they are fit to take over with success the business of administration without outside assistance. Islam will not be weakened by these arrangements and the two great Powers, to whom these mandates have been allotted, include within the limits of their empires a very large proportion of the total Muslim population of the world—a guarantee that the interests and rights of the Muslims of these areas will be fully respected.

12. In the countries of Arabia, Iraq and Palestine are situated the holy places of Islam with which all Muslims are profoundly concerned. When the war began the Allies gave a solemn pledge that the holy places would remain inviolate. This pledge has been observed in the spirit and in the letter during the actual occupation by His Majesty's forces of the territories in which some of the holy places are situated and steps have been taken to ensure their strict security. The city of Jerusalem was not attacked as has been stated, but surrounded without violence offered or attempted, after it had been notified in the course of operations against enemies armed in the field. The fullest measures were straightway taken to preserve the sanctity of the holy place within it, and the city which is in itself as sacred to Christians as to Muslims was entered by the victorious British General on foot. The Muslim shrines continue as before in the hands of their own Muslim custodians. In Mesopotamia the holy places of Kerbala and Najaf were never attacked and no acts of war were committed there by our troops. The scrupulous forbearance of His Majesty's soldiers was gratefully acknowledged by the inhabitants themselves. The supposed occupation of Baghdad as of Jerusalem involved no attack on the holy places, but was an inevitable incident in the field operations of the war. The shrines in these three sacred places of Mesopotamia are now in the custody of a distinguished Muslim whose charge of them is an ample assurance that their sanctity will continue to be fully respected. The British forces have conducted no operations whatever in the Hedjaz and any reports that Meccah or Medina have been entered by British troops are utterly without foundation. These places are entirely under Arab control.

13. There remains the case of certain Armenian districts whose incorporation in the adjoining Armenia Republic is a direct consequence of Turkish misrule and of the application to this area of the principle of nationality. The cruelties perpetrated on the Armenians in the shape of massacre and deportation admit of no doubt. The story has been proved by independent and reliable witnesses and it is established beyond dispute that during the year 1915 at least 800,000 Armenians were destroyed. The facts were indeed admitted by the Turkish emissaries in Paris who represented the Turkish Government and their sole excuse was that the Committee of Union and Progress who were in power at the time were responsible for the massacres.

14. In these explanations of the Turkish Peace terms, the Governor-General in Council does not speak for His Majesty's Government. He has utilized such information as has come into his possession, and has attempted to explain the terms with special reference to their bearing on Indian Muslim sentiments. He has stated all the facts, nothing being mitigated and nothing oversteated. He recognizes that in spite of all explanations the terms of the peace settlement with Turkey are such as must cause pain to the Mohammedans of India. Indian Muslims must hence themselves to bear with patience and resignation the misfortunes of their Turkish co-religionists. The situation is one which calls for clear vision and a resolve to build a better future on the wreck of the past. Above all the world needs peace and goodwill. It is a matter of supreme necessity for all men to work towards this end and those who at this critical time arouse religious passions are enemies not only of India but of mankind.

No. 719.—The following regulations relating to appointments to the Indian (Imperial) Police Service in 1918 are published for general information.

5. The Secretary of State for India in Council proposed not to hold any competitive examination during the year 1933, for admission into the Indian (Impaired) Police Service, but to make a number of appointments of probationers by advertisement as described below from among gentlemen who have rendered military service during the war.

3. Number of appointments.—Appointments will be made in the United Kingdom by the Secretary of State for India in Council and in India by the Government of India, from among candidates who at the time of application were resident in India or in any overseas possession, including the Straits Settlements. The previous number of appointments to be made in the United Kingdom, and in India will be concerned pro rata.

4. Method of application for appointments made in the United Kingdom.—For the appointments to be made in the United Kingdom a qualifying examination will be held for admission to which applications must be made to the Civil Service Commissioners, London, on the prescribed form, accompanied by a fee of 1s. The application form must reach the Civil Service Commissioners not later than the 25th May 1920.

2. A list of applications for appointments under (a) Job*-Appointments must be made on the suggested form (specimen of which may be obtained on application to the nearest AEC office) to the Adjutant-General, in India, Simla. Such applications must be forwarded up to the 15th June 1953 from candidates in India and up to the 30th June 1953 from candidates overseas. Candidates will be in the country residing from the Adjutant-General in India any further information or instructions that may be necessary.

Warning.—Any attempt on the part of a candidate to solicit support for his application through a form of Government or other influential persons will definitely bar the appointment. The Selection Committee will disregard applications from persons who are not personally acquainted with the candidate's work, whether obtained at the University, or the Press, or elsewhere.

2. Conditions of applicability—

(c) Every trademark must have been used on or after Feb 23rd 1941 and on or before the August 1958.

(2) Every candidate must be a British subject and at the time of his birth his father must also have been a British subject.

* Rules applicable to the class of federal statutes were published in a First Amendment on the 5th November 1978.

(c) Every candidate must have served in His Majesty's Naval, Military, or Air Force during the war.

(d) Every candidate must be of good character in civil and military life.

(e) Candidates for the appointments under a Table by the Government of India must satisfy the Table, or the Selection Committee appointed by them on that behalf, that they have received suitable technical and systematic education up to the age of 18, or until the date of entering His Majesty's Service, whichever is the earlier, and must undergo a qualifying examination* in English, Arithmetic and General Knowledge. English will include essay writing, prose writing and other tests. General knowledge will include matters historical, economic, social, political, geographical and scientific.

2. Those candidates who satisfy all the conditions referred to above and are considered suitable will be summoned to an interview before a Selection Committee who will prepare a list of candidates suitable for appointment, subject to medical examination, and submit their recommendations for the notice of the Government of India.

Note.—A candidate who applied for appointment in 1915 but was not selected is not debared from applying again for one of the appointments to be made in 1926.

3. Medical Examination.—Candidates who are recommended for appointment will be required to undergo an examination as to their physique and capacity for active out-door work in the plains of India.

4. Rating.—Selected candidates will be required either to give satisfactory proof of their ability to ride or to undergo such riding tests as may be hereafter prescribed.

5. Allowance in Prison.—Selected candidates will be allotted as probationers in the various prisons in India upon a consideration of all the circumstances (including their own wishes) but the requirements of the public service will rank before every other consideration. The allowances will also be subject to the rights of the Government of India to make transfers, if necessary.

6. Uniform.—It is an ordinary condition of appointment that a successful candidate shall provide himself, or be provided, by his parents or guardians, with his uniform at the cost thereof. Government makes a contributory grant of £10 towards the cost of uniform.

(b) Home and Military.—A successful candidate must, when required to do so by Government, provide himself with a suitable home and military establishment. Local Governments in India are authorized to make in a partly appointed officer a grant of a sum not exceeding Rs. 500 towards the cost of such home and military.

7. During the Police Service.—Subject to what is stated in the next paragraph as regards the taking of leave in India pending civil appointment, probationers will be required to join their police units, if possible, within a short time of their final selection. Failure to do this will, in the absence of satisfactory explanation, lead to forfeiture of appointment.

8. Leave before joining civil appointment.—Each selected candidate will be granted leave at the rate of one month for each year of military service subsequent to his last departure from England, subject to a maximum of four months. He will receive, while on leave, the full pay of his new civil appointment. Every selected candidate who has served the full period of leave allowed will be required to take it immediately after his release from military service and before joining his civil appointment. A selected candidate who has served less than the maximum of four months will have the option of either taking the leave at once or forthwith, or of joining his civil appointment with that amount to his credit, and taking it later on such date as will have earned in the meantime. In such a case candidate leaves on full pay will be limited to four months.

As the institution of this concession to military service subsequent to a candidate's departure from England might operate harshly in some cases, the Secretary of State has authorized the Government of India to relax the condition where it is considered necessary.

Any officer taking leave under these arrangements will receive a free passage from England to India on the expiry of his leave. In the event of his being discharged from the police service within three years of the date of his appointment on any ground other than that of ill health, he will be liable to return to the Government the cost of any free passage granted him under these leave rules.

9. Rate of pay, and pay during probation.—The rates of pay are set out in Appendix I.

In the case of candidates selected under three Regulations, the following modification of the normal scale has been approved. Those whose ages on the 1st August preceding their reporting themselves for duty were as stated below will receive pay to the time scale as follows, viz.:

Any probationer so removed from the Service will be furnished with a free passage to England, provided that he fulfils such passage within three months from date of such removal.

It should be understood that the probation to be undergone by selected candidates will be of a real character.

* The qualifying examination will begin in the 1926-27 July 1927 at which he is to be selected for duty.

(3) The accumulated furlough will carry an allowance at the rate of average salary, subject to a maximum of 9,404 a year.

(4) Subject to special considerations in exceptional circumstances, an officer must have five months' furlough at his credit at the end of the "accumulated furlough," or any leave granted to him is continuation of it.

(5) In any one period of leave not more than eight months may be spent on "accumulated furlough," or on "accumulated furlough" combined with privilege leave.

(6) For the purpose of the rules governing the extent to which leave taken out of India may be allowed to accrue as service for pension, time spent at India on "accumulated furlough" will be reckoned according to its actual duration and not according to the duration of the furlough in exchange for which it is granted.

7. In respect of urgent private affairs, an officer may be granted furlough in excess of the amount "due" for a period not exceeding six months at one time or 12 months in the whole of his service.

Short Leave.

8. Privilege leave is a holiday which may be granted in the extent of one-fourth part of the time that an officer has been on duty without accumulation; and it may be accumulated up to four months.

Subject to certain conditions privilege leave may be combined with furlough on extraordinary leave without pay.

9. Furlough for a short period, usually with half average salary, is granted to an officer returning from leave out of India in order that he may rejoin his appointment.

10. Short leave is also granted to enable officers to appear at examinations, etc.

11. Extraordinary leave without allowances may be granted in case of necessity, and, except in certain specified cases, only when no other kind of leave is by rule admissible. It may be granted in continuation of other leave.

General.

12. Leave of absence, whether as furlough or on privilege leave can never be claimed à la carte, and is given or refused at the discretion of Government.

8. Candidates will not be entitled to any travelling allowances for journeys to appear before local Governments, or Political Officers or Agents, or for prospects to and from the local offices referred to in paragraph 6; but those appointed to appear at Dehra Dun for the physical test, medical examination and interview will be reimbursed, by the President, Forest Research Institute and College, Dehra Dun, before the candidates leave Dehra Dun to return to their homes, the cost of a second-class ticket (by rail or (road) by sea) to and from Dehra Dun from the nearest railway station or ports to their homes. 9. Those finally selected as a result of the examinations, tests and interview prescribed in paragraphs 6 and 7 will be appointed as probationers for the Indian Forest Service; they will be required to leave for England early in September and, subject to their conducting satisfactorily, as described below a course in Forestry and allied subjects in England, will be appointed finally as Assistant Conservators of Forests. Candidates selected for training will be provided with free-time passages to England.

10. Period of probation.—Before appointment to the Imperial Forest Service a probationer will be required—

(1) to have undergone and qualified in, to as extent as is prescribed by His Majesty's Secretary of State for India, the course of Forestry at such University as the Secretary of State may prescribe;

(2) to have undergone a special course of instruction in Forestry under the direction and supervision of the Director of Indian Forest Studies;

(3) to have passed an examination in forest engineering and, if required, in certain other special subjects, namely systematic Botany of Indian trees, Indian Zoology, Forest Law and Indian Working Plans;

(4) to have undergone a final competitive examination in Forestry;

(5) to have satisfied the Secretary of State, in such manner as may be determined, of his ability to ride.

The period of probation is, in ordinary cases, two years. The Director of Indian Forest Studies instructs probationers in such cases as to the order and manner in which they should fulfil these various requirements.

11. Charges.—Probationers will be required to defray all expenses of lodging, board, tuition and accessories in forest studies in the United Kingdom, while at the University and on practical instruction.

12. Allowance.—The Secretary of State for India in Council makes payment to each probationer on the scale of £100 per annum, not exceeding a total of £600. These payments are ordinarily made on the following dates in each year:—

On 1st December	£40
On 1st March	£80
On 1st June	£80

The name of probationers whose probation does not extend over the full period of two years will be specially indicated.

For wages made on the Continent under the instructions of the Director of Forest Studies, salaries and travelling allowance will be paid by the Secretary of State for India in Council at such rates as he may from time to time fix. The fee of the local forest which at the station fixed will also be paid by the Secretary of State.

The grant of allowance is subject to the following conditions:—

(a) that the progress of the probationer in his studies is satisfactory;

(b) that the probationer gives security to refund the payments in the event of his failing to qualify for an appointment in the Indian Forest Service, or not signing the articles of agreement as specified in paragraph 13 or failing to join the Indian Forest Service at the end of the period of probation.

13. Security.—Every probationer is required to contract himself during the period of probation in a manner satisfactory to the Secretary of State and to give evidence of satisfactory progress in his studies at such a manner as may be required, failing which, or in the event of serious misconduct, he is liable to have his name removed from the list of probationers.

14. Appointment and security.—Probationers who comply with the requirements of paragraph 10 within the prescribed period of time, and also satisfy such other tests as may be prescribed, are appointed Assistant Conservators in the Indian Forest Department, provided they are of sound constitution and free from physical defects which would render them unsuitable for employment in the Indian Forest Service. No probationer will be considered as a member of the Imperial Forest Service who fails to profit by the course of training, or who appears, in the light of the experience acquired as to his capacity and qualifications during the probationary period, to be unsuitable for the work of a forest officer.

* This allowance is subject to be determined to meet all the needs of a probationer, who shall be in a position to provide them if with at least another £100 per annum from other sources.

† Probationers will be required to give security to refund the payments in the event of their failing to qualify for an appointment in the Indian Forest Service, or not signing the articles of agreement. If this condition is not satisfied they will not be permitted to leave for England.

The position of the Assistant Conservator in the Provincial Forest List is determined by the Secretary of State for India in Council on the report of the Director of Indian Forest Service. It is possible that officers promoted from the Provincial to the Imperial Service will take such promotion in their pay in the latter service. In this case probationers recruited under these regulations must be prepared to find their names placed below those of officers promoted from the Provincial Service.

Probationers are allowed at the end of the period of probation to state their preference in respect to the province to which they desire to be allotted; but the Distribution is made to the several provinces according to the needs of the public service, at the discretion of the Secretary of State for India in Council and no guarantee can be given that probationers will, on appointment, be posted to their own province. Indians will not, however, be required to serve in Burma and Bismarck will not be required to serve in India.

Officers are at all times liable to be transferred from one province to another at the pleasure of the Government of India.

14. Articles of Agreement.—A probationer is required, on qualifying for appointment as Assistant Conservator, to sign articles of agreement setting forth the terms and conditions of his appointment; he must observe for Indian when required to do so by the Secretary of State. Failure to comply at the stated time will, in the absence of satisfactory explanation, lead to forfeiture of appointment.

15. Europe in India.—Each probationer on appointment to the Indian Forest Service is permitted with a free first-class passage to India.

17. Salary.—The scale of pay and allowances in force for officers of Indian domicile is given in Appendix II to these regulations.

18. Discipline, Leave and Pensions.—Probationers, leave and pensions are governed by the Regulations laid down by the Government of India, and applicable to Forest officers. Such regulations being subject to any modifications for alterations which may be made in time from time to time by the Government of India, and their interpretation in case of any doubt resting being left to that Government.

Customs in connection regarding appointments in the above recollecting with of the Indian Forest Service will be found in Appendix II, and a summary of information regarding leave and pensions is contained in Appendix III.

The station of the barometer is twenty-two feet above the level of the sea, and the position of the rain-gauge is two feet from the ground. The wind, rain and general weather registered are for the central circle—down to the level of the water.

The total quantity of rain collected since 1st January is 8.15 inches, the average for the same period being 8.87 inches.
